PRINCESS AND THE PLATINUM

A recent Furniture Today report that Italian bedding producer Magniflex introduced "the world's most expensive and luxurious bed" at the Las Vegas furniture show brings to mind the princess and the pea fairy tale. The queen-size sleep set, $75,000, features platinum fibers. And a pillow in the collection carries a $2,000 tag, more than most sleep sets sold. In the past, Magniflex has introduced mattresses with fibers from other precious metals, including silver and gold for $4,000-$24,000 in queen sizes. Production of the new Platinum sleep set will be limited to 10 sets, according to the report.
